THE DUTIES OF COMMISSIONERS

Plenty of Work Assigned in New Charter.

Mr. E. J. Justice Gives More Detailed Outline of What Will Be Expected of Commissioners If City Adopts Commission Plan—Point Raised That Three Would Be Enough—But It Would Make Them Work.

Hearing some talk that the services of four commissioners would not be required to look after the city's interests, as provided in the proposed commission form of government to soon be submitted to the people, a reporter yesterday called on President E. J. Justice, of the Chamber of Commerce, who was also chairman of the committee that drafted the charter.

"Mr. Justice I hear that some people are of the opinion that three commissioners can attend properly to the city's affairs, instead of four and that four are not necessary as provided by the commission plan," said the reporter. "I would be glad if you would give a few reasons why four commissioners were provided for in the proposed charter."

"The first thing to be determined is just what the duties of the commisioners are," replied Mr. Justice. "If one man could properly do the work I think one commissioner would be better than four. The committee and the board of directors would not oppose two commissioners in addition to the mayor if it thought the three could properly administer the affairs of the city, but they were of the opinion that it would take four to do the work. This, however, is a matter for the people." Mr. Justice then proceeded to outline some of the duties that are detailed to each of the three commissioners and the mayor.

The mayor, who is also commissioner of accounts and finances, shall have general oversight and supervision of the several departments and officers of the city government and is required to report to the board any failure on the part of any one to perform his duties. He shall also supervise the bookkeeping of the various departments and cause to be compiled all statements to be made by public service companies. He shall be the purchasing agent of the city and shall make out bills therefor and submit same to the board for approval, after which he will make out and sign warrants and have them countersigned. The mayor will also collect taxes, issue all licenses and in the absence or inability of any one of the commissioners he shall have temporary supervision of the department, subject to the power of the said department. He shall look after all employes in his department and all other employes of the city not specially assigned to one of the other departments. Once each three months he shall inspect all accounts and cause them to be properly kept, and shall audit the accounts of all persons receiving or disbursing money for the city and shall publish quarterly a financial statement of the city's affairs. He shall examine all payrolls and accounts before they are acted on and shall report the failure of any person owing money to the city to pay same and make recommendations in regard thereto. In addition to the above the mayor will meet daily with the board as a whole and discuss all questions which the board as a whole has to deal with. "That ought to keep him busy," declared Mr. Justice as he finished enumerating the above duties.

The Commissioner of the Department of Streets will have charge of all public works not expressly given to some other department. It will be his duty to see that the streets are kept in repair, new streets are opened and constructed, curbing and sidewalks properly placed and laid, that macadam work is properly done; the sprinkling and cleaning of streets, also the erection of public buildings in the city, will be under his supervision. He will be required to inspect and approve all estimates as to the cost of public work and make recommendations as to the acceptance of bids for same. He shall have charge of all public grounds, bridges and viaducts not assigned to other departments; shall look after the location of street car tracks, telegraph and telephone wires and shall see that all ordinances pertaining to streets and public places are properly enforced and shall report the failure of any public service company to properly comply with the requirements set forth in its franchise. He will supervise the department of the civil engineer and have charge of cemeteries and parks of the city.

The Commissioner of the Department of Public Safety will have charge of the police force, stations, jails and all property connected with them, also charge of the fire departments and apparatus, employes and persons connected therewith, also all property belonging to the fire department. He will have charge of the electric wiring inspection, plumbing and building inspection, also of the market houses and employes connected therewith. He will look after the enforcement of the ordinances tending to secure safety to the travelers of the city. He shall be charged with the responsibility of keeping the city in a sanitary condition and shall look after the health department, seeing that all laws and ordinances in reference thereto are enforced. He will have charge of the public dumping grounds, scavengers and the quarantine regulations; will look after the suppression of nuisances, and will have charge of the pest houses. He shall recommend the purchase of all things needed for his department, as shall the commissioner of streets recommend the purchase of things needed in the department of streets, also.

The Commissioner of the Department of Water & Lights shall have charge of the water sheds, pumping stations, filtering apparatus, pipe lines and everything connected with the supply of water. He shall collect the water rents and keep an account of these matters, in conjunction with the commissioner of accounts. He shall act for the city in securing rights of way and easements for the protection of the watersheds. He will superintend the construction of tanks and will have charge of the sewer system. He will also have control of the lighting system of the city and all persons connected with these matters will be under his supervision.

The board of commissioners as a whole will be the legislative body of the city and as a whole must inspect and keep a check on the accounts and work of each of the several departments and shall audit bills and appropriate funds for the use of the several departments. The board shall levy taxes and will be particularly charged with many detailed duties in regard to the collection of the taxes and to see that people do not escape the payment of taxes. The board will also be charged with the responsibility of keeping up the school system of the city, the most of this work to be done through the superintendent of schools. One member of the board will also be treasurer of the city.

"If the duties of the commissioners will not keep all four busy then we shall be glad to reduce the number," said Mr. Justice. "The success of the plan," he continued, "will lie in the fact that the affairs of each department are properly attended to. It would in my opinion be better to have one commissioner more than necessary at first than to have three and the duties be such that no one of the commissioners would have time to properly look after the duties assigned him."

The Telegram has already published an outline of the changes in the charter, explaining the election and recall of the commisisoners; also the power given to pass ordinances and the securing of franchises. The proposed charter will be discussed at a mass meeting to be held in the court house Monday night, a call for which appears below. Mr. Justice has already issued a call for a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to discuss the draft on this date. Mayor Stafford's call follows:

To the Citizens of Greensboro:

Pursuant to a call made by Mr. E. J. Justice, president of the Chamber of Commerce, requesting the stockholders and members of the Chamber to meet at the court house at 8 o'clock on the evening of September 19, 1910, for the purpose of considering a proposed plan for a commission form of government for the City of Greensboro, worked out by a special committee appointed by the directors of the Chamber of Commerce some months ago, I respectfully request and urge that all citizens of the city attend this meeting and participate in the deliberation thereof looking to the perfecting of a more economical plan of government for the city.

Not C. W. Holden.

In yesterday's Telegram mention was made of the fact that C. W. Holder, who was fined $150 for keeping a disorderly house, had paid the fine. Mr. C. W. Holden requests that it be made clear that the person referred to was not C. W. Holden, the electrician.

Every man has some weakness, but he generally has to become famous before it is found out.

THE CONDITIONS ENCOURAGING

So Declares President W. W. Finley.

Head of Southern In Interview Says Business Conditions In Southeastern States Are Encouraging—Predicts Active Fall and Winter Business, Unless Frost Damages Crops—Demand For Cotton Goods.

Washington, D. C., September 14.—President Finley, of the Southern Railway Company, who has been looking into business conditions in the Southeastern States today said:

"On the whole the conditions are encouraging. In agriculture the present outlook is particularly good. The cotton crop is later than usual, and is, therefore, more subject to future weather conditions than is usual at this time of the year. However, the condition report of the United States Agricultural Department, issued on the 2nd instant, showed a better average condition of the growing cotton crop in the States south of the Potomac and Ohio rivers and east of the Mississippi than on the corresponding date last year, and the area planted was reported in June as 140,000 acres greater than last year.

"With ordinarily favorable weather conditions until the crop is harvested, the Southeastern States will have the largest corn crop on record for that section. The area planted is more than a million and a half acres greater than last year, and the condition report issued on September 8th showed a better condition in Mississippi than in any other State in the United States, with Alabama a close second and with good condition reported from each of the other Southeastern States. The increased corn crop of the South will have an important bearing on general trade conditions, for localities which have formerly bought considerable corn from other parts of the country are growing in some cases all, and in other cases the greater part of what they will require this year, and will be in a position to buy other commodities on a larger scale.

"Coal is moving in larger volume than last year, and lumber is in more active demand.

"The cotton mill industry of the world has been passing through a prolonged period of depression due to the inability of manufacturers to market their products at prices commensurate with the price of their raw material. This has resulted in a material curtailment of production in the South as well as in other cotton mill centers. In the meantime, the consumption of cotton good throughout the world is continuing. Stocks in the hands of merchants are being reduced, and there is every reason to believe that, as soon as the size of this year's crop can be more accurately estimated, there will be an active demand for cotton goods of all kinds at prices bearing such a relation to the price of the raw material as to stimulate the mill industry.

"Taking all factors of the situation into consideration, I am encouraged to believe that, with average weather conditions and in the absence of an unusually early killing frost, we may look forward to an active fall and winter business in the Southeastern States."

NEGRO MAN KILLED

Ollie Harris, of Benaja, Crushed Between Work Train and Hand Car.

Ollie Harris, of Benaja, a colored man, was killed yesterday morning on the railroad a few miles this side of Reidsville. He was riding on a flat car which with another car was being pushed by the engine. Through the fault of some one, it was not learned who, the cars were pushed into a handcar. A number of men were on the train and all jumped to safety except Harris, who excitedly jumped between the train and the handcar and lost his life as a result. He was a member of an extra section force.

Sisters and Nurses Picnic.

The Sisters and nurses of St. Leo's hospital picnicked at Lindley park yesterday, the occasion being a highly enjoyable one. They went out on a special car and after dinner several automobiles were sent out by a physician of the city and the jolly picnickers taken for an auto spin to the hospital.

PROHIBITION CAMPAIGN IN FLORIDA BEGINS TODAY.

Local Optionists Will Wage Strenuous Fight to Defeat Proposed Measure.

Jacksonville, Fla., Sept. 14.—A campaign to determine whether Florida shall have state-wide prohibition will begin here tomorrow with the assembly of two state conventions, the local optionists, opposed to the state-wide principle, and the prohibitionists favoring it.

Upon the results of this campaign depends the question whether the entire southeastern corner of the United States shall be "wet" or "dry" for outside of Florida any one who wishes to buy an alcoholic drink legally across a bar must travel westward to states bordering the Mississippi river or northward a long portion of the journey to Mason and Dixon's line.

The issue is an amendment to the constitution instead of local option which Florida now has. This amendment will be voted on at the November election. Both of tomorrow's conventions are called to lay plans for the campaign on this issue.

The local options have refused to give out in advance anything about their campaign plans but they have been canvassing the state quietly and thoroughly to work up enthusiasm for tomorrow's convention. Although the adjacent states Georgia and Alabama are completely "dry" the local optionists declare that one factor in keeping Florida from following their example will be the fact that a popular vote decides the issue here and that few Southern States have gone dry by direct vote of the people.

It is said that the local optionists will have the support of liquor interests, which have much at stake in the shipping business in the wide belt of dry territory immediately north of the State.

The prohibitionists are expected to name a full state ticket, not with the expectation of electing their candidates but merely to add to the power of the organization which will contend for the amendment. The convention's real business will be the discussion of plans for the campaign, in which the assistance of the state anti-saloon league is expected. To date the prohibitionists have been waiting for the local optionists to move before launching the dry campaign in earnest, meanwhile employing two expedients to keep the issue alive. One of these is a male college quartette which is touring the state singing prohibition song and the other the selling stamps by the W. C. T. U. The stamps advertise the cause and yield a revenue for the approaching campaign.

WHEELER PHILATHEA CLASS.

Members Delightfully Entertained by Miss Cara Scarborough.

The Wheeler Philathea Class was delightfully entertained Tuesday night at the home of Miss Cara Scarborough on McGee street. This was the time for the regular monthly meeting, but at Miss Scarborough's invitation the active and honorary members were entertained by her instead.

As they approached the recently remodeled home, the scene of many brilliantly lighted Japanese lanterns from the verandas and lawn made each one feel sure that a hearty welcome awaited them within. They were greeted at the door by Mesdames Scarborough and Miles. Miss Scarborough and Mrs. J. M. Rankin then welcomed them into the spacious rooms where progressive games were indulged in.

All during the evening punch was served from the porch by Misses Vickory and Shaw. Special instrumental selections were rendered by Misses Lizzie Smith and Lessie Lindsay and there were several vocal solos by Mr. Edgar Clapp, all of which were well rendered and enjoyed greatly by all.

As a climax to the highly enjoyable occasion Miss Scarborough served delicious ice cream cones. The hospitality on the part of Miss Scarborough and her mother was not only greatly enjoyed by every one present but was highly appreciated.

Small Fire Yesterday.

An alarm of fire yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock from box 25 called the firemen to a burning tenement house on Percy street. By effective work the firemen prevented the building from burning down. The damage was slight. A defective flue was supposed to have caused the fire.

Postoffice Receipts.

During the month of August the postoffice receipts showed an increase of 24.7 per cent. over the corresponding month in 1909. The total receipts for the past month were $6,766.87, while for the month of August in 1909 the receipts were only $5,424.54.

FORMAL OPENING OF GREENSBORO FEMALE COLLEGE.

Sixty-fourth Annual Session Began Yesterday Morning—Opening Exercises.

The sixty-fourth annual session of Greensboro Female College began yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, the formal opening exercises being highly interesting and most enjoyable as well. The exercises were of a nature that would tend to make the new students feel perfectly at home and before they were concluded the homesick look had faded from many faces.

Rev. E. K. McLarty conducted the devotional service, after which he extended a welcome to the students. Mrs. Lucy H. Robertson, president of the institution then spoke a few words of welcome and in her cordial and hearty manner made the new students forget they were in a strange place. Revs. W. R. Ware and D. M. Litaker also spoke a few words of welcome and encouragement to the students.

A number of selections by Prof. Henry Foote Perrin, of the musical department added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion. Prof. Perrin is a gifted musician and his interpretation of the selection from Liszt was most pleasing to the musical ear.

The improvements began on the grounds this summer are nearing completion. The high bank fronting West Market street has been cut down and a cement sidewalk laid. Cement steps are now being laid up the terraced walk and when completed the improvement will be marked. Heretofore it has been difficult to see the college from the street, but now a fine view is obtainable. A new brick building has been erected to relieve the congestion in the music department and this will be finished soon.

The prospects for a fine year were never more encouraging. Weeks ago all dormitory space had been taken and many students could not be accommodated. The college officials hope to increase the dormitory room before another year, thus greatly increasing the usefulness of the institution.

The Normal.

Every train brings its quota of students for the Normal. Those who have come in so far have been new students and some former students who desire to take special examinations. While the college opened yesterday it will be next week before regular class work will be begun.

COUNTRY ADVERTISING BEGUN.

Secretary Daniel Flooding Rural Districts With Circulars and Lithographs.

Secretary Garland Daniel yesterday began his country advertising and in a few days the rural districts in Guilford and adjoining counties will be flooded with circulars and lithographs calling attention to the Greensboro fair. This great annual event is now less than four weeks off, and in fact the time will be here before one can hardly realize it.

From the present outlook it is no exaggeration to say that the fair will be bigger and better than ever before. Every booth on the second floor of the exhibit hall has been taken except one. A large amount of the space set aside for agricultural exhibits have already been taken and there will be no doubt as to the magnificent exhibits of the farmers of the county.

The poultry department will be under the supervision of the Guilford County Poultry Association and a large number of entries will be made. There will be exhibits from Virginia, North and South Carolina. The professional poultrymen will not make exhibits this year, but the local poultry fanciers will more than make up for this. The interest in this department is greater than in the history of the fair.

Every building has been overhauled and cleaned up. The race track has been worked and will be in first class condition by fair week. The horses are already coming in for the races.

EDUCATIONAL WEEK AT BETHEL A. M. E. CHURCH

Other Negro Churches and Their Pastors Are Cooperating.

Rev. W. H. Manokoo, pastor of Bethel A. M. E. church, is conducting a week of educational meetings. All the prominent negro churches with their pastors are co-operating in these meetings. Tonight the congregation of Mount Sinai Baptist church will attend and the sermon will be delivered by their pastor, Rev. R. H. Harris. The series of meetings will close Sunday with a sermon at 3 p. m. by Rev. Melton Clark, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, and an address at 8 p. m. by Dr. J. L. Mann, superintendent of the City Graded schools. An earnest invitation to attend these meetings is extended to the friends of education and of the churches.

THE U. S. MARINE BAND TONIGHT

The Auditorium Put in Good Condition.

The Seats Scoured—New Platform Built—Building Will Be Well Lighted—Many Orders From Out of Town For Seats—Tickets Should Be Bought This Morning To Avoid Rush At Box Office Tonight.

Thanks to the indefatigable efforts of Mr. C. C. McLean, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, the auditorium has been put in excellent condition for the appearance here tonight of the United States Marine Band.

Heretofore there has been complaint about the dust on the seats. Mr. McLean has had them all scoured and there will be no trouble on this score. In fact the whole place has been put in as good condition as is practicable for a mammoth building without a floor.

A splendid platform for the band has been built. Directly in front of it a string of electric bulbs will be stretched so that the musicians will be enabled to see their notes with ease.

The audience will occupy the eastern end of the building, the larger part of the building having been separated from the rest with a large piece of canvas stretched across the arena.

The band will arrive on No. 35 at 6 o'clock tonight direct from Washington. From here it goes to Richmond for a concert Friday night.

Mr. McLean has many orders from out-of-town people asking that seats be reserved for them. There will undoubtedly be a rush at the auditorium box offices tonight and it is suggested that it would be wise to get tickets this morning at Fariss-Klutz Drug Company instead of waiting until the last minute. General admission tickets as well as reserved seats are sold at the drug store.

Something About the Program.

The program will open with that masterpiece of Wagner, the Tannhauser Overture. Few overtures have such stirring elements blended with such delicate melody. As presented under the baton of Lieut. W. H. Santelman, it is an inspiration.

This will be followed by the suite, "L'Arlescienne" (Biset) composed of four dainty numbers portraying life in Arles, and then will come the "Serenade" by Lacombe.

The fourth number will be a cornet solo, "Le Reve d'Amour," (Maydn-Millard) by Aruthur S. Whitcomb of the band. He is an artist with his instrument and this selection will display some beautiful tone work. Excerpts from "Carmen" will be familiar to all, Von Weber's Invitation to the Dance." and Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody. No. 14," will give the members of the Marine Band an opportunity of displaying their solo powers as well as ensemble skill. The last artistic number will be directed especially to this locality and can not help but find a responsive chord for it will be "Songs of the Plantation" (Chambers). This is a potpourri of Southern airs, happily blended and played in a truly Southern spirit. The program will close as usual with the national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner." Dixie and other popular numbers will also be given.

THE PROPOSITION MADE

Special Lighting Committee Tells Public Service Company What City Will Do.

Mr. W. T. Sergeant, chairman, of the special committee on city lighting, yesterday mailed to Mr. E. C. Deal, general manager of the North Carolina Public Service Company, the proposition recommended by the committee to the Board of Aldermen and adopted by that body. The substance of the proposition has previously been printed in this paper.

The next move will be by the Public Service Company.

Mr. Royster's Condition.

A message from St. Leo's Hospital last night was to the effect that Mr. R. F. Royster, who suffered a cerebral hemorrage while on the street Tuesday night, was resting well. He has recovered his memory and the physicians are hopeful of his recovery. For a time it was feared that he could not survive the attack. Mr. Royster's home is in Oxford, and he was here on a visit at the home of Mr. George H. Royster, Church street, when stricken.

Feet Tired--- So Tired?

TIZ Makes Sick Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

It's the sure remedy, you know, for everything that gets the matter with your feet. It's for sore feet and for sweaty, bad-smelling feet, and for corns, callouses and bunions, too.

For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet; suffered intense pains...Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends...I would not be without it...All it requires is to be known to be universally used." A. F. Dreutzer, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25 cents per box, or it will be sent you direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Greensboro Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here is proof in the statement of a nearby resident.

F. M. York, Shelton street, High Point, N. C., says: "Several years ago I suffered severely from pains across the small of my back and I was so lame at times that I could hardly arise from a sitting position. The kidney secretions were unnatural and caused me a great deal of annoyance. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply and began their use. Several boxes banished the pains in my back and restored my kidneys to a normal condition I always keep Doan's Kidney Pills in the house, as I know they are a reliable kidney remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

HOW WORDS CHANGE.

A Knave Was Once a Lad and a Villain Only a Peasant.

New York World.

In the New York panic of 1857 a Frenchman declared that he should lose all his "propriety." It sounds like something to laugh at. Nevertheless "property" and "propriety" have the same French derivation. Words have a knack of shifting not only from their sources, but also out of their own original meanings.

We accept an anecdote as a short diverting story. Etymologically it means something as yet unpublished.

To prevent, which is now to hinder, meant in its Latin original to anticipate.

Mountebank was the term applied of old to the patent medicine vender who mounted a bench to proclaim his wares. It is from the Italian.

To be silly was in its ancient sense to be blessed.

To be officious was to be courteously ready to do kindly office.

If a man was facetious, in the early English, he was but urbane.

An idiot was a private citizen as distinguished from an officeholder.

Frontispiece, if considered from its Latin source, is not a picture in the front of a book, but the front view of something. The Latin word is frontispicium.

Beldam is not an abusive term in its French source, but means a fair lady.

Shamefaced comes from a good Anglo-Saxon term which means not one exhibiting shame, but one protected by shame, being therefore innocent and modest.

HAIR SOFT AS SILK.

New Scientific Treatment Kills Dandruff Germs and Makes Hair Soft.

It is an accepted fact, a proven fact, that dandruff is a germ disease; and it is also a demonstrated fact that Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ. Without dandruff falling hair would stop, and thin hair will thicken. Herpicide not only kills the dandruff germ, but it also makes hair as soft as silk. It is the most delightful hair dressing made. It cleanses the scalp from dandruff and keeps it clean and healthy. Itching and irritation are instantly relieved, and permanently cured. There's nothing "just as good." Take no substitute. Ask for "Herpicide." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

LADY SERVANTS' CLUB.

Will Be Opened in London to Provide Social Life for Domestics.

London letter to New York Sun.

A club for "lady servants" is soon to be opened in London. The main object of the club, according to the secretary, is to give such servants an opportunity of enjoying the social life of which their position often deprives them.

People would be astonished, she says, if they knew how many ladies have gone into domestic service in the last few years. Many of them belong to distinguished old families and others are the daughters of doctors, clergymen and lawyers.

The chief hardship in the career of a lady who becomes a cervant, it is pointed out, is the lack of congenial society, but she will be lonely no longer. In future she will spend her evenings out at the club.

The club rules permit members to invite hale friends to dine at the club and enjoy a quiet rubber of bridge. Members will not be encouraged to talk shop. Bridge for small stakes may be indulged in, and country members on a visit to town will find in the club all the luxuries of a London hotel.

Don't Break Down.

Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause breakdowns. You can't over-tax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run-down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters the matchless, tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down, while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50c at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Never Again.

Washington Star.

Only a litle while ago Mr. Roosevelt was standing silent at the tomb of Napoleon. It seems unlikely that this historic event will ever again be even approximately duplicated.

SAFE MEDICINE FOR CHILDEN

Foley's Honey and Tar is a safe and effective medicine for children as it does not contain opiates or harmful drugs. Get only the genuine Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package. Holton's Drug Store.

NO GEMS NOW.

Activities of Burglars At Newport Have Wrought Change.

Boston Globe.

Mrs. Charles M. Oelrichs has set a new style at Newport. For years past she has been known far and wide as the most bejeweled woman in the summer colony, and her valuable gems were at once at the envy and admiration of all who laid eyes on them. But, this year she has appeared at all society events of the colony without them. At first it occasioned some surprise, for Mrs. Oelrichs without her jewels seemed as incongruous a state of affairs as would a charger without his trappings. But soon society became accustomed to the change, and, following a leader, all its members adopted the same style and appeared at the various house parties unadorned with glittering gems.

Now the "why" of the case is this: In the last few years social leaders have been worried over the appearance, or rather the non-apeparance, of a mysterious "society burglar." Jewels have disappeared over night. Five years ago Mrs. Ogden Goetlet's summer home was robbed and gems valued at nearly one quarter of a million dollars were taken. The following year it was Mrs. Oelrichs' turn, when $10,000 worth of necklaces and rings were carried off.

From time to time since then other houses have been entered; so when the aforementioned social leader left her New York homes early this spring all of her most valued jewels were safely stowed away in safe-deposit vaults; hence the newest styles at Newport.

A Reliable Medicine—NOT A NARCOTIC

Mrs. F. Marti, St. Joe, Mich., says Foley's Honey and Tar saved her little boy's life. She writes: "Our little boy contracted a severe bronchial trouble and as the doctor's medicine did not cure him, I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar in which I have great faith. It cured the cough as well as the choking and gagging spells, and he got well in a short time. Foley's Honey and Tar has many times saved us much trouble and we are never without it in the house." Dropped In on the Bears.

The removing of the polar bears at the zoo recalls that some years back a visitor dropped in on these bears. A hat fell into the pit, and its owner at once jumped in after it. He alighted on a bear who was enjoying a doze in the sun. The bear made him welcome. It seized him by the shoulder and waltzed him round and round. Luckily the visitor kept his feet until a keeper opened a side door and pulled him into safety. But the hat was left behind. On the following day the man sent to the society a letter in which he claimed the cost of a new hat.—London Tatler.

A Vicious Fish.

In South America there is a small fish that not only attacks its fellows of the sea and river, but is greatly dreaded by the natives, who during certain seasons have to ford the streams in which the carbitos are found. Bathers are often attacked by them, the sharp, chisel shaped teeth taking a bit from the flesh wherever they attack. They are perfect scavengers, eating the animals that float down the river—dead or alive.

The Deduction.

"There's a proverb that fits every man."

"What one fits me?"

"To whom God gives office, he also gives brains."

"But I have no office."

"Well, don't you see how it fits?"—Cleveland Leader.

When You Think

Of the pain which many women experience with every month it makes the gentleness and kindness always associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a natural necessity there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well, and gives them freedom from pain. It establishes regularity, subdues inflammation, heals ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 31 stamps.

A Singular Bet

By ALLAN G. LAMOND

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

We were but six line officers at a two company post in the western wilderness. We had played poker till we had won one another's money several times over, but it was the same money passing and repassing between us, and the fund hadn't increased under the operation. Neither had it decreased. There was nothing to buy, neither wines, liquors nor cigars. We had brought a supply with us.

After every man of the six—the commandant didn't play poker—had been cleaned out half a dozen times, proceeded "on tab" and cleaned out every other man half a dozen times, Carter, captain of my company, remarked:

"I offer $10 to any man of this crowd who will give me a new sensation."

"Make it a hundred," said Billy Kendall, second lieutenant of E company, "and I'll try."

"I'll make it a hundred if you succeed, you to pay me a hundred if you don't."

"That's fair; I'll go you once."

"Who's to decide who wins?' asked Carter.

"I'll make a more definite proposition," replied Kendall. "I'll bet you that on or about tomorrow morning I pull old Tom's nose."

Old Tom was the major, thirty-eight years old, bald, dignified, even pompous, a martinet, and his proper name was Thomas Ordway.

"Do you take me?"

"I certainly do, but the money will do you no good except to pay for your funeral."

"I'll risk that; put up the funds."

Seabury, captain of F company, was made stakeholder, and he, with the two first lieutenants, were appointed umpires. The rest of the day was spent in wondering how Kendall was going to get out of losing his bet, for as to pulling the major's nose one might as well pull the nose of the secretary of war, the highest official an officer considers, except the president, who is only supposed to figure in pardons. But since no one could guess what Billy was up to, we finally drifted into vignt et un and were obliged to be content with this for the rest of the day and evening.

That night the surgeon was called up to treat Mose, the major's colored striker. He found Mose throwing up his supper of pork and hard tack. The next morning Mose remained in bed. The surgeon could not see that anything was the matter with him, but Mose persuaded him to report to the major that his striker was unable for the present to perform his duties.

Just before guard mounting Kendall sent an orderly to Captain Seabury to say that as soon as the old guard had marched off some one of the umpires were to be at Old Tom's quarters ready to observe the pulling of his nose.

The major was in a bad humor that morning in consequence of the absence of his body servant and being required to get ready his own bath and perform other menial duties that were usually attended to by Mose. When the umpires heard the tramp of the guard that had been twenty-four hours on duty going to their quarters all three of them moved, at different times, so as not to attract attention, to headquarters. Near the door they rallied on the center and conferred. It was agreed that Seabury should make an excuse to go in, stay as long as he could, then come out, to be replaced by one of the others. Seabury entered, asked the major some trivial question on a matter of duty and came out, reporting that the major had his coat off and his collar unbuttoned, while Kendall was stropping a razor. In a few minutes I went in and came out to report that the major was in the chair in which Mose usually shaved him. Kendall was lathering the commandant's face. Here comes Lieutenant Sykes, who had entered in his turn, laughing and slapping his leg.

"What is it?" asked the others, crowding around him.

But Sykes was so full of laughter that he couldn't go on. Finally, when he recovered somewhat, he said:

"When I went in old Tom said apologetically, 'That infernal striker of mine had to get sick last night, and the surgeon reports that he can't shave me this morning. Mr. Kendall has kindly come to the rescue, and I am under an eternal obligation to him. What is it you want?'

"Kendall," Sykes went on, "as soon as the major had finished speaking, took hold of old Tom's nose with the forefinger and thumb of his left hand and, pulling it first to one side then to the other, looked up at me, winked and began to shave the commandant. Carter has lost."

"I believe," said Brown, "that rascal Kendall bribed Mose to be sick."

"Sure enough," chimed in Seabury. "Let's go and find Carter."

At Carter's quarters they told the story, and the captain agreed that the joke was worth the stake. In a little while Kendall came in and told how he had bribed Mose with a ten dollar bill to take an emetic, to fool the surgeon and stay in bed the next morning. Knowing how old Tom dreaded to go without a shave and couldn't shave himself, Kendall had bantered him to let him do the job.

Maine acted so creditably Vermont must be feeling bad about its failure to make good.

Some of our exchanges are already urging early Christmas shopping. There's nothing like being on hand early with one's advice.

A contemporary recalls the fact that Senator Hale, of Maine, announced some time ago his intention to retire. He was one man at least who looked ahead.

Six out of seven Republican members of the Ballinger investigation committee voted to whitewash Ballinger. This action gives the G. O. P. a sort of standpattish look.

"A Story of Progress," on this page today, makes interesting reading. The extent and variety of the work of the Y. M. C. A. cannot fail to excite admiration and wonder.

The Democrats have forcibly ejected the Republicans from the band wagon, clibed in and taken full possession. All those with band wagon proclivities will please get aboard.

The next Maine Senate will consist of 21 Democrats and 10 Republicans and the House of 88 Democrats and 63 Republicans. It seems really impossible that such a thing could be true in Maine. Truly wonders never cease.

Had the spirit of insurgency been given a little longer to operate in Maine, the whole business might have gone Democratic. As it was the Republicans managed to save two congressmen. The spirit of insurgency is abroad in the land. As goes Maine so goes the nation.

William Barnes, Jr., Republican standpatter of New York State, insists that the standpatters will control New York. But every day's dispatches tell of some standpatter laid low by an insurgent. Barnes and the Old Guard will put up a courageous fight, but—insurgency is in the air.

Mr. Gilliam Grissom let the cat out of the bag and solved the local self-government plank when he declared to a Telegram man that North Carolina was tired of going to Virginia for its liquor. Booze is the great issue with our Republican friends in their State campaign this year. Mr. Grissom has given the whole thing away.

Attention is directed to the call of Mayor Stafford for the mass meeting to be held next Monday night to discuss the proposed commission form of government. This will be a very important meeting and there should be a large attendance. We venture to express the hope that any differences of opinion that may arise over the various matters involved will be entirely of a friendly and kindly nature as of course they ought to be.

While the political position of Senator Lorimer is extremely precarious, Boss Coss, of Cincinnati, has a voting machine behind him, and hence Colonel Roosevelt was de-lighted to shake his hand, though polluted with the frauds of many an election.—Philadelphia Record.

The Colonel is always ready to kick a sinner who is down and out, but if the sinner is holding his own and is keeping his day of reckoning well in the future, the Colonel will hobnob with him in great style. It is the lame ducks that he is gunning for.

The Columbia State, which fought for Featherstone in the notable South Carolina contest just ended, takes the defeat of its favorite gracefully, attributing it to "an indefinable mental condition of the people." It is always hard to tell what the people will do. They'll fool the best of prognosticators at times. But the State is wise in accepting the result cheerfully. The people are supreme and if they make a mistake, it is their lookout. Of course they make mistakes at times and we have no doubt that the State is right in holding that they made a mistake in South Carolina when they chose Blease for Governor in preference to Featherstone.

STORY OF PROGRESS.

The Y. M. C. A. year book for the year ending April 30, 1910, is an interesting statement of the work of this great organization. In North America there are 1,688 Young Men's Christian Associations with 496,591 members and occupying 696 buildings. The total value of the property of these organizations above all indebtedness is $60,377,122—a gain for the past twelve months of nearly $5,000,000.

There are 2,927 men who are employed as secretaries and physical directors, and there are 338 vacant positions to be filled. It is a noteworthy fact that there never has been a time in the history of this organization when there were men enough available to fill the vacant positions.

In the Y. M. C. A. night schools there are 52,277 students. The gymnasiums enroll 271,506 seekers after health and physical recration.

There were 98,461 men in the Bible classes. Positions for 32,618 men were secured and 57,891 were directed to boarding houses.

Swimming was taught to 15,778 in the 293 swimming pools maintained by the Y. M. C. A.

There are 327 bowling alleys, 139 athletic fields, 292 tennis courts, and 29 boat houses, while 232 associations possess billiard and pool tables.

There are 628 college organizations, 230 railroad departments, and 27 army and navy branches. In the railroad departments the rest rooms were used 2,275,067 times and 4,930,130 lunches were served.

The temporary hospitals were used 6,971 times and 1,468,798 baths were given.

Wedding This Evening.

This evening at 9 o'clock at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Clara Thornton Peck, Miss Saza Peck and Mr. Robert Worth Wilson will be united in marriage. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. Sanders R. Guignard, former pastor of St. Andrew's Episcopal church.

MANY MINERS ENTOMBED.

Explosion In Indiana Mine Yesterday Morning—Mine on Fire.

Linton, Ind., Sept. 14.—Scores of miners entombed with a heavy roll of dead and wounded is the result of an explosion which occurred at Vandalia mine No. 10, ten miles from here, at 9 o'clock this morning. The mine is now on fire.

The dead are variously estimated at from one to twenty and it has been impossible thus far to penetrate the entry where the explosion occurred or to do anything toward the relief or rescue of the imprisoned men.

A miner named Baxter is definitely reported killed but this is the only name give thus far.

Relief parties have gone out from here and all the doctors in town were rushed to the scene of the disaster at once.

A few of the men who were between the air shaft and explosion managed to make their way to freedom, although several of them were fearfully burned.

Nothing definite is known thus far as to the cause of the explosion or the real extent of the disaster.

Details are meagre and only further investigation can establish the loss of life.

Municipal Court.

There were less than half a dozen cases in Municipal court and with the exception of two drunks none of the cases were disposed of. A case against Wes Craig, charging larceny, was continued until today. A case against Gulie Freeman, charging assault, was continued until Friday morning, the defendant being placed under a bond of $25. Lou Lindsay, colored, was charged with keeping a house for immoral purposes, the case being continued until Friday.

It is of little traits that the greatest human character is composed.—William Winter.

WOMEN SHOULD PROPOSE.

Boston Club Leaders Says it is Often the Straightforward Way.

Boston Traveller.

"Should bashful lovers be helped, and will a woman lose her dignity if she takes unto herself the right to propose marriage?"

This was the burden of a letter which came to me recently, written in such an anxious tone that, fearing my own judgment might not be sufficient, I sought the opinion of three of Boston's most representative women.

Miss Florence Luscomb, of Allstonu, needed no time for deliberation before giving her ideas upon this matter. In the ideal condition of things, she told me, a woman would feel quite as free to ask a man to marry her as does the ardent wooer of today press his privileges.

Miss Luscomb is one of the "new women," so to speak. She was graduated last year from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, where she took honors in the architectural course. As a speaker at the open-air suffrage meetings she has made many converts to the cause, and she has sold suffrage literature on the street corners, and even tramped many weary hours at a stretch wearing sandwich boards exploiting the suffrage meetings.

"Under the present conditions," said Miss Luscomb, "I believe it would be far nobler for a woman to go at once to the point, and show quite frankly that she is willing to enter into a life partnership with a man for whom she has a deep regard than to resort to all manner of subterfuge, silent persuasion and coquetry in order to make him 'pop the question.'

"When her life's happiness is concerned, there is too much at stake to allow the conventional to hold sway. A dignified, straightforward method is far more womanly, to my mind, than the attitude of seeming indifference, while all the time she is using every artifice and device possible to gain her goal."

Mrs. Florence H. MacAlman, of Somerville, a leader in the club circles of the State, was the next to whom I took the problem, as she represents the conservative progressive type of womanhood.

"I can conceive of many situations where a woman could make the proposal of marriage and not part with one iota of her womanliness.

"Take, for instance, the case where a woman of wealth is attached to a man poor in worldly goods, whose pride would not allow him to seek her hand. I certainly should think no less of her if she asked the important question, and if he were the right sort, I am quite as sure that he would hold her in even higher esteem."

STATE PRISON BOARD

Regular Session Held In Raleigh Yesterday—Chamber of Commerce Elects Officers.

Raleigh, Sept. 14.—The State prison board met in regular session today and transacted the usual business. Dr. T. M. Jordan entered upon his duties as prison physician today, having been elected at the last meeting of the board to succeed Dr. I. G. Riddick, resigned. Dr. Riddick has been the competent physician at the prison for more than a year, having tendered his resignation some time ago.

The annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held last night and was well attended. The reports of the president and secretary were listened to with a great deal of interest and were revelations to those who had not kept up with the city's great progress during the past year, nor had considered the many improvements that are in the process of construction.

The following officers were elected:

President—Hubert A. Royster.

First Vice President—H. H. Carr.

Second Vice President—R. W. Winston.

Secretary—F. A. Olds.

Treasurer—B. S. Jerman.

TREAT FOR THEATRE-GOERS

They Greatly Enjoyed Dustin Farnum In "Cameo Kirby" Last Night.

Theatre-goers were given a treat last night when Dustin Farnum, an actor of reputation, was seen at the Grand in "Cameo Kirby," Mr. Farnum taking the title role.

Cameo Kirby is a striking type of the Mississippi river gambler of decades ago and the part gives the noted actor many opportunities to display his histrionic powers.

The play has its humorous as well as its serious and impressive side, comedy being contributed in large quantities both by Kirby and Larkin Bunce, this latter role being most effectively handled by Mr. W. H. St. James.

Miss Nora Shelby as Adele Randall was very acceptable as the principal woman figuring in the play, the winner of Kirby's heart.

The remainder of the cast was strong and satisfying in all respects and the play as a whole was eminently satisfactory—one of the highest events that will be seen here this season.

Democrats of Missouri Busy.

Jefferson City, Mo., Sept. 14.—Democrats and Republicans of Missouri resumed their conventions in which they are framing their platforms this morning. The documents on which the candidates will seek votes in November must be filed with the secretary of state by 6 o'clock tonight.

The Democrats have all but completed their platform. They are waiting on the Republicans to finish. It is planned to announce the two declarations of principles simultaneously. Because of the "progressive" element in the Republican party many of the planks are being debated.

We take pleasure in announcing that Madame Nolan, the celebrated corsetiere, will arrive on Monday, 19th, and will give a public demonstration in our corset department of the latest LaVida models.

We invite all who are interested in correct corseting to be on hand. The demonstration will take place on second floor and those who desire to avail themselves of Madame Nolan's expert knowledge of corseting will have an opportunity to consult her as to their special requirements.

The new LaVida models are marvelous beauty builders. They combine the elongated, sculptured lines of present style requirements with pliant suppleness and perfect comfort. There are shapes to fit every type of figure. We invite you to a trial fitting.

NORTH CAROLINA MEDICAL COLLEGE OPENS

The Attendance Larger Than It Was Last Year—Everybody Enthusiastic.

Charlotte, Sept. 14.—The North Carolina Medical College was formally opened today for its 17th annual session with prospects for the most successful year's work in the life of the institution. The attendance at the opening was decidedly larger than it was last year and it is confidently expected that the enrollment this year will exceed by 10 or 15 the enrollment of last year when it reached 110 students. The attendance, the enthusiasm of the students and the earnestness and determination of the faculty would all indicate that the recently published criticisms of the institution, following the adoption of the "Forsyth Resolutions," has worked much more good than harm to the college.

At the opening exercises today the annual address was delivered by Rev. Dr. P. R. Law, the able editor of the Presbyterian Standard. The feature of the exercises was an address by Dr. J. P. Munroe, president and founder of the college, who answered for the students the questions that have arisen since the recent attacks on the college.

The spirit shown by the members of the faculty, among whom are included physicians and lecturers without peers in the South, and by the students and alumni of the college is a clear indication that there will be but one thought among them and that the upholding and upbuilding of the reputation and the standard of the college, which has every necessary facility for the proper training of its students.

REPORT FROM MR. KLUTZ

Injured Druggist Is Cheerful, Friend Who Visited Him Reports.

Mr. H. F. Coble returned last night from a trip to Salisbury and while there visited at the hospital Mr. A. J. Klutz, who was so badly hurt in an automobile accident several days ago. He says he got a look at one eye and a small part of the chin, but the rest of the head and face of Mr. Klutz was concealed by bandages. However, the injured man is reported to be cheerful and to be making the best of a bad situation. It is expected that he will be detained in the hospital at least a week longer, possibly ten days. His machine has been brought to a garage in Salisbury. It is believed to be damaged to the extent of several hundred dollars.

ARRESTS LAST NIGHT.

Full Court Will Most Likely Await Judge Eure This Morning.

Several arrests were made by the police last night and the prospects for a full court this morning are fine. Alice Williamson, colored, made complaint to the police that Jesse Monroe had slapped her around too freely, but the officers found that she needed slapping. Consequently a warrant charging her with vagrancy was issued. She is also charged with an assault, having scrapped with Katie Jenkins yesterday afternoon.

Date Kine, alias David Cowans, colored, was arrested on the charge of retailing spirituous liquors, the offense having been committed in Duplin. Allen Leath, colored, was arrested last night for having assaulted Mr. H. J. Simmons, a traveling man.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—of sunshine—and of atmosphere,—seemed never to achieve a healthy growth.

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart.

You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vaseline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out.

THE WOMAN'S TARIFF.

It May Be One Reason Why She So Frequently Struggles.

Franklin Clarkin in Everybody's Magazine.

Whether or not with men there exists some consciousness that smuggling "once stood as a political test," with women it is not at all a political protest. It's a game. Morals enter into it about as much as into bridge. Getting Things Through is just a variety of bargain hunting, not in the least the same—seemingly—as abstracting so much cash from the till of the post-office.

One might say that, if women are serene and joyous smugglers, some extenuation may be found in this—that Mr. Dingley, in drawing up his Tariff bill, bore severely on things which are women's things. One fair principle to be carried out in any scheme of revenue should be to tax nuisances and luxuries. Mr. Dingley evidently regarded women's decorations as both. At all events, hats, silks, feathers, cosmetics, beads, galloons, laces, embroideries, spangles, sealskins, fans and such were subjected to a tax higher than the average by eight points whatsoever. They had to yield the expense of the establishment of the navy ($12,500,000), the judiciary ($972,000) and the total expense ($5,500,000) of collecting all customs duties along every coast and border line. Under the Aldrich tariff no reductions were made on goods for women, with the exception of hooks and eyes and sewing machines. On the rest rates were increased; besides, their chocolates were taken from the free list.

BEDCLOTHES FROM SKY.

Jersey Policeman Expected Mattress, Bolster and Pillows.

New York, Sept. 13.—If any birdman lost a sheet and a quilt when flying over New Jersey yesterday he may get them by applying to Patrolman Aaron Cohen, of Bayonne, who caught them as they floated down from the realm of Wright, Curtiss, Harmon, Hamilton and Baldwin.

The bedclothes were about six hundred feet in the air when the policeman first saw them, parachuting down in fine style. Cohen looked for the aeroplane from which they had fallen. It was so high in the air he could not see it. After catching the sheet and quilt and waiting vainly in the neighborhood for the mattress, bolster, pillows and blankets to follow them he took the sheet and quilt to Police Headquarters and delivered them to the desk sergeant.

DIVIDED THE MESSAGE.

The Way a Financier's Clerk Extemporized a Cipher.

When Wall street first caught the fever for "industrial combinations" and began the reorganization of everything in sight one of the votaries of high finance found himself in Chicago in extreme need of communicating with his New York office.

He almost completed an arrangement for the consolidation of several western enterprises, but in order to get the final authority he needed from New York he must ex[illegible] in all he had done by wire to his partners.

There was no time to write. He had no cipher code. For a long time he tried to think out some way to send the information so that it would be plain to his partners and meaningless to any one else. His secret was a valuable one and once sent over the wire might be sold out to his rivals in Wall street for a large sum.

At last he decided to take the chances in plain English. Accordingly he wrote the message and gave it to his assistant to send. Half an hour later, when the assistant came back, he asked him if he had sent it.

"Not just that way," said the clerk. "I rewrote it—the first word on a Postal blank, the second on a Western Union, and so on. I sent half by each company, and neither half meant anything. Then I sent a second message by one line, saying, 'Read both messages together, alternating words.'"

The scheme was too simple for the high financier to have evolved, but it worked perfectly.

Mrs. Jacob Wilmert, Lincoln, Ill., found her way back to perfect health. She writes: "I suffered with kidney trouble and backache and my appetite was very poor at times. A few week's ago I got Foley's Kidney Pills and gave them a fair trial. They gave me great relief, so continued till now I am again in perfect health." Holton Drug Co.

would have been about as welcome to A. Copoer, of Oswego, N. Y., as a merciless lung-racking cough that defied all remedies for years. "It has most trouble some at night,' he writes, "nothing helped me till I used Dr. King's New Discovery which cured me completely. I never cough at night now." Millions know its matchless merit for stubborn colds, obstinate coughs, sore lungs, lagrippe, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, whooping cough, or hayfever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy. BROKE UP THE HABIT.

"What has become of those two children who visited you so often?" asked one west side woman of another. The other smiled discreetly.

"They are the children of my niece, and she was making a convenience of me. Of course I love the children, but I never allow myself to become much of a victim of imposition. My niece is an extremely gay young widow, and she does not like to take care of her children. She is fond of shopping, matinees, afternoon teas and everything, in short, which takes her away from home, and she got into a habit of sending her children over to my house for me to take care of whenever she wished to gad about. I decided it was time to break up the habit, for her own good and that of the children, as well as mine, so I did."

"I suppose that made your niece angry?"

"Oh, no; it couldn't. I never said anything about it. The last time the children came over I spent the afternoon teaching them verses from the Bible, and they didn't find it sufficiently entertaining. They never came back. Just how they managed to work it out with their mother I do not know, but I suppose they struck or begged off. Of course she could not object to what I had done, and it proved a very simple solution."—New York Press.

HIRED APPLAUSE.

The Great Rachel Made the Claque Earn Its Money.

"It seems that upon a certain opening night Rachel received enthusiastic applause, but on the second night it was so noticeably slim that the actress felt deeply grieved and bitterly complained that the claque was not doing its duty. The leader of the hired 'applause makers' on hearing of her displeasure wrote her a letter in which he endeavored to excuse himself from any blame.

"'Mademoiselle—I cannot remain under the obloquy of a reproach from such lips as yours,' he began. 'The following is an authentic statement of what really took place: At the first representation I led the attack in person not less than thirty-three times. We had three acclamations, four hilarities, two thrilling movements, four renewals of applause and two indefinite explosions. In fact, to such an extent did we carry our applause that the occupants of the stalls were scandalized and cried out a la porte!

"'My men were positively exhausted with fatigue and even intimated to me that they could not again go through such an evening. Seeing such to be the case, I applied for the manuscript, and after having profoundly studied the piece I was obliged to make up my mind for the second representation to certain curtailments in the service of my men.'

"The writer thus goes on at some length to assure the actress he will try to make future amends and requests her to believe in his profound admiration."—Exchange.

TALKING IN FIGURES.

Significance of Certain Numbers In the Telegraphers' Code.

"In the telegraphers' code numbers have special significance of which the general public is not aware," remarked a veteran key night the other day. "Most everybody knows that 30 means 'good night,' or the end of a story, but few outside the profession know that 31 is also a code sign. Railroad operators, however, know that this call is a signal to the operator at the other end to come back and repeat train signals to the sending operator. It also has another meaning. 'Train order to be signed by conductor and engine driver.' Nineteen, on the other hand, means that the train order is not to be signed by conductor or engine driver. Twenty-four has also the latter significance on some roads.

"Five is simply an interrogation point and in the vernacular could be translated 'Anything doing?' Thirteen signifies 'Do you understand?' Twenty-five means 'busy,' but nobody seems to know how it came to have that significance unless perhaps it means that the operator is still in the midst of his work, being some distance away from 30.

"Seventy-three means 'best regards,' and newspaper men and operators employ this expression constantly. Of course 23 has come to mean in this numerical language just what it does in ordinary parlance, 'skiddoo,' 'vamoose' or 'butt out' or any of the thousand and one other equivalents."—New York Herald.
